March Term of Court Adjourns.

The March term of the Bourbon Circuit Court closed Saturday afternoon with the trial of the case of Spears vs. Renick, an action growing out of an alleged nuisance on the part of the defendant toward the plaintiff. The facts as set on in the petition alleged the defendant placed a chicken yard so close to the residence of the plaintiff that it made the use of the room adjacent impossible.

After hearing the evidence Judge Sandidge announced he would not let the temporary injunction go into effect until the next term of court.

The $50,000 damage suit of James McClure against J. D. McClintock for alleged slander, on trial in the Bourbon Circuit Court, came to a sudden termination Friday afternoon when Judge Sandidge delivered peremptory instructions to the jury to find for the defendant, and returned a verdict in accordance with the ruling of the court. The case which was called Thursday afternoon occupied the greater part of the day.

The Bourbon County Bar Association in appreciation of the work of Judge Sandidge, serving as special judge in the absence of Judge Stout, who is in Florida for his health, presented him with a solid silver plate in token of their esteem. The presentation speech was made by Hon. C. M. Thomas and Judge Sandidge made an appropriate response.

Before the formal closing of the term Judge Sandidge called the prisoners convicted at the term before him and passed sentence upon them.

The grand jury had returned indictments against Eddie Washington, caught in the act of rifling a safe of Lynch & Wiggins at Hutchison, and he appeared by attorney and entered a plea of guilty, a jury being impaneled, and was sentenced to the State Reform School for an indeterminate sentence of one to five years.

Hampton Boone, accused of committing a forgery, also pleaded guilty to the charge, and was sentenced to an indeterminate sentence of two to ten years in the penitentiary.

Wallace Kimbrough, for committing a forgery, was sentenced to the State Reform School for an indeterminate sentence of two to ten years.

Simms Cooper, accused of horse stealing, was sentenced to two to ten years in the State Reform School.

Dan Anderson, on being arraigned for sentence, made a motion for a new trial. A jury recently found him guilty of an attack on a woman and sentenced him to an indeterminate sentence of ten to twenty years in the penitentiary.

Minneapolis Here for Three Games.

Minneapolis here for three games instead of two is the latest handed out by President Bacon. The Millers will play here on Thursday and Friday and also on Sunday.

Nothing is more gratifying to the Paris fans than to know they will have the opportunity of seeing the Association champions in these exhibition games on the local lot.

The report has been going the rounds that Paris will have in the field several players who are not actual members of the local team. The line-up published in the last issue of the News contains the names of men who are under contract with the Paris Club, and they are all expected to be in the field at the opening games.

"Pop" Barnett, the star initial sacker of the pennant winning Bourbonites, is expected to make his appearance in Paris tomorrow morning. Other players are expected during the day, and the full team will be made up by noon Thursday. All the men report they have availed themselves of the opportunity to do a little practice work during the warm days and are in good shape for the "set-to" with the Millers.

The line-up of the Minneapolis Club will be as follows: McKelvy, third; McCormick, short; Clymer, center; Williams, second; Dawson, left; Lynch, catcher; Altrock, first; Sage, right; Shear, Ophium, Chase, pitchers.

Printers and the Tariff.

An exchange thinks Uncle Sam is not "toting fair" with the printers generally. Besides formulating stringent rules on postage and making the government a direct competitor with every job-printing plant in the country in the business of printing private envelopes, the printers are highly tariff-taxed on the material and machinery used by them.

First and foremost in the high tariff tax on wood pulp, paper and cardboard and the products thereof. The abolition of the tariff tax would check the enormous drain now being made on the rapidly disappearing forests of our country and would give the printers some measure of relief from constantly-increasing prices being exacted by the paper trust.

Linotype, typesetting and typesetting machines, and parts thereof, are tariff taxed 30 per cent. Since none are imported and no revenue derived therefrom, the conclusion must naturally be drawn that this tax is levied for some "special interest," which requires no painstaking or laborious search to find. Under the protection the linotype trust is enabled to sell for over $3,000 a machine that costs it only about $750 to build; has bought and suppressed over 800 competing patents, thus keeping off the market in this country other meritorious machines that would have competed with the linotype and forced that machine to be sold at a reasonable price; has extended its grip to Canada and acquired control of the monoline, the only machine that has seriously competed with the linotype outside the United States, the manufacture and sale of the monoline in this country having been prevented by the linotype trust.

The Canadian reciprocity agreement will remove the tariff tax from wood pulp, paper and cardboard, and from typesetting and typesetting machines and parts thereof when imported from Canada into the United States. Linotype machines should also be included in this agreement, and we hope our two Senators and eleven representatives will see that it is done when the extra session meets, and that all of them will vote for Canadian reciprocity.

California Must Be Good.

The deal made between President Taft and the members of the California delegation in Congress, whereby the San Francisco was to get the Panama Canal Exposition only one promise that no anti-Japanese legislation of a radical character be passed, hangs in the balance. The President intimated to his callers that unless anti-Japanese legislation now pending before the California Assembly is speedily quelled, in accordance with the terms of the deal, he will invite no foreign powers to participate in the exposition.

Can Employ Assistants.

Attorney General Breathitt Friday gave Commissioner of Agriculture Rank in an opinion in which it is held that in case of an emergency the County Live Stock Inspector may employ as many agents or assistants as to him seems reasonably necessary, and that the services of these agents or assistants must be paid by the Fiscal Court in the same manner as the services of the County Live Stock Inspector.

Sent to the Asylum.

Mrs. Mary McGinnis, wife of Asa McGinnis, of Lexington, was Friday adjudged insane by the County Court and ordered sent to the Eastern Kentucky Asylum for the Insane.

Robbers Hold Up Train.

Masked men held up St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern passenger train six miles south of Coffeyville, Kas., where they blew open a safe in the express car and escaped in automobiles, carrying with them money and valuables which will amount to $20,000.

Why the Housekeeper Should Vote.

"As a house keeper, I have waged incessant war with the dust cloth against the black soot which is spoiling our towns as pleasant and sanitary locations for homes; I have trudged through mud ankle deep on Main street because a village board did not require, or at least demand, ordinary board or cement walks; I have used inadequately filtered water, uninspected milk and shopped in markets where inspection of sanitary conditions was never dreamed of, and I have visited schools and seen children housed in a building where sanitary conditions were all but unbearable. Yet these are only a few of the ways in which politics affect the home," says a writer in Woman's Home Companion for April.

"I believe that there will, with equal suffrage, come increased facilities for better school work, better legislation and enforcement of laws concerning children and child labor. This is not because men wish to be neglectful or thoughtless in these respects, but because women stand just a little closer to children and conditions affecting them than do men. And with the mothers the children will and should come first. Sanitary conditions of municipalities and laws affecting laboring women will also come in for a share of attention. Women who are near the top of the industrial scale do not particularly feel the need of the ballot as a means of protection, but should strive to attain and see it for the sake of the sisters at the bottom of the ladder."

Trust Sued.

Commonwealth's Attorney M. J. Hennessey of the Tenth district, has filed suit in the Mason Circuit Court against the American Tobacco Company. He alleges in his petition that the defendant company has unlawfully and wilfully created, established, entered into, organized and become a member of, and a party to a trust for the purpose of regulating, controlling and fixing the price of tobacco, both in leaf and manufactured form and for the purpose of enhancing the price of the manufactured article above its real value and depressing the price of said leaf tobacco below its real value in Mason county, wherefore he prays for judgment for the commonwealth in the sum of $5,000 and all costs herein.

Whisky Trust Loses Suit.

In the Jefferson Circuit Court Friday Judge Robert Bingham denied an injunction to the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse Company against the State Board of Health, wherein the plaintiff sought to enjoin the defendants from putting into effect an order issued several months ago directing the defendants, who operate distilleries in Anderson county, to discontinue the use of Bailey's Run, near Lawrenceburg, as a dumping place for slop and refuse from its plant.

The Court decided that it had jurisdiction, but that in taking this jurisdiction it did not presume to pass on the question of whether or not a nuisance existed at the distilleries in question, but declared this question must be left to the Courts of the county where the nuisance might exist, if it did exist, where if a penal action was brought to test the question, the action thus brought might then be answered by a plea of "not guilty." The court held that the notice served on plaintiff by the committee of the State Board of Health was wholly void and of no effect, it not being signed.

In summing up the case, Judge Bingham overruled the special demurrer of the defendants to the plaintiff's petition, which went to the jurisdiction, and overruled the motion for an injunction.

BLACK HAWK CORN PLANTER No. 15 VARIABLE DROP! Light Draft, Simple Construction.

Wur special new feature in this planter is that we not only get an accurate number of kernels in each hill, but we get the number of kernels in each hill which the quality of the soil is able to bring to perfect maturity.

No field was ever known to contain exact uniformity in strength of soil. It is just as unreasonable to expect the same results from thin, weak soil, in comparison with deep, rich soil, as it is to expect a child to do a man's work. This is a reasonable proposition, particularly to the scientific corn grower.

More money is being spent and greater efforts along educational lines are being made to-day than ever before in the world's history to increase the yield of corn per acre. We contributed a very large effort to accomplish these results with our Black Hawk single kernel edge drop, and we now add to our combination the No. 15 Variable Drop, with which the drop can be changed to 2, 3 or 4 kernels in a hill without stopping the team; or can drill 7 1-2, 10 or 15 inches, 9, 12 or 17 1-2 inches, or 11, 14 or 22 inches apart, without stopping the team.

Hand Drop Attachment with each Planter, has Foot Drop also. Will plant last two rows and wind wire at same time. Come and let us show you the best planter made.

A Terrible Experience.

James Long and family, near Peck Ridge, had a terrible experience at their home one day recently. Mr. Long, while in his yard, saw his 3-year-old babe toddle to an open-top cistern and fall in. There was 8 feet of water in the cistern, but Mr. Long, without hesitation, pulled off his coat and jumped in after the child. With the babe in his arm he swam and struggled in the water and his 14-year-old son threw him a strap, with which he managed for a while to keep his face above the water, but unfortunately the boy let go of the strap. To make things worse the boy then became excited and jumped into the water also and Mr. Long was then confronted with the problem of saving himself and two of his children. All would have drowned, but for the arrival of Mrs. Long on the scene. With presence of mind she secured a rail and put in the cistern, and with this Mr. Long supported himself and children until the heroic wife hurried for a rope. Securing this, she first pulled out the babe, unconscious, which she laid on the ground face down. Then the boy was pulled out with the aid of the rope and the rail, and last the husband. Attention was immediately turned to the unconscious babe and by proper manipulation and work the child was revived. It was a terrible experience for the Long family, and one thru which they hope never to pass again. Mr. Long has securely fastened up the open top to the cistern and will see that it remains closed.—Flemingsburg Gazette.

Honor Roll of Paris School For Month of March.

MARCH REPORT OF PARIS PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

This has been a most prosperous month with the exception of a considerable reduction in attendance due to measles and whooping cough. We have exercised every precaution to prevent the spread of these diseases, allowing no one to come from a family where any member has measles or whooping cough, and sending every pupil home immediately when any symptoms could be detected. This is all we could do.

The attendance reduced from 543 to 484, but the total enrollment has increased to 639 in the white schools, and to 367 in the colored schools, making a total of 1,076. The attendance in the colored schools is 287, making an average daily attendance of 771.

Paris Boy Thought Dead is Found

Long since mourned as dead by his family and friends in this city, Lawrence Kendall, a Paris boy, has been located by his relatives in Helena, Ga., where he holds a position with a railroad company.

About eleven years ago, Kendall, who was a printer employed on a Paris paper, enlisted in the marine service at a Lexington recruiting station, was sent to the navy yard at Norfolk, Va., and later transferred to a training ship where he spent much of his time cruising along the Atlantic coast.

When his period of enlistment expired he was discharged and since that time his family had heard nothing from him. All efforts to locate him were without result and his family gave him up as dead.

His whereabouts was revealed to his family when in applying for a clerical position with the Seaboard Railroad Co., at Helena, Ga., he being required to execute bond, furnished an agent for a bonding company the names of several Paris people who as a means of reference were communicated with.

His mother, Mrs. Nannie Kendall, and one brother, Charles, and a sister, Mrs. John Merringer, reside in Paris, who are overjoyed at finding the son and brother, who for eight years they believed to be dead.

L. & N. Detective Shot.

Firing from ambush an unknown assassin shot down Railroad Detective Rose at Baxter Station, Harlan county Saturday night. Rose has been employed by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company and it is believed that the shooting was done by some one who cherished a grievance against him because of his work against marauders. Rose was nearing the railroad station preparatory to boarding a train when he fell probably mortally wounded two bullets having been imbedded in his head. Bloodhounds were placed on the trail of the assassin.

Our Display of Spring Suits
Reflects the Best of Fashion's
Latest Modes : : : : :

This you will appreciate at first glance if you know anything of style-currents.

Further examination will reveal the smart materials that have been used, the careful tailoring, the little finishing and trimming details that proclaim and suit well-made, in addition to stylish-made.

Fashion named as her favored materials French serges, imported light weight worsteds, hair line stripes, shepherd checks and the latest novelty wool back satins.

Therefore these are the materials used in the suits we have assembled.

Fashion pronounced as good such effects as the raised waist line, the sailor color, the Incroyable revers, short jackets, narrow skirts.

Therefore these styles are included in the models we are showing.

In fact every style-note has been developed in these suits, modified appropriately for every occasion of wear and for every type of figure.

Though all of these suits are worth noting, we call your special consideration for the marked distinction and excellence of our $25 suits.

Prices on our new Spring suits range comfortably from $25 to $50.

Grand Jury's Report Withheld.

The report of the Bourbon county grand jury filed last week is still being withheld from the public owing to the fact that bench warrants issued by order of the court have not been served upon all against whom indictments were returned. It is expected the making public of the grand jury's report will create quite a sensation as it is understood from those who claim to know the indictments include one against a Lexington man for detaining a woman against her will with other indictments in the same case against a man and woman, of Lexington, as accessories. It is also said indictments have been returned against a building contractor, a stock dealer, a saloonist, a farmer, merchant and other, fourteen in all, for living in adultery.

—The gardening season is now on and the plowing and preparation of the soil has had the right of way this week. Potatoes, peas, lettuce, and even some corn and beans have been planted.

—According to statistics made public by the U. S. Agricultural Department, higher wages were paid to American farm laborers during 1910 than at any time in the last forty-five years. The average monthly wage for the entire country was $27.50, or 19.21 with board. The highest was in Nevada, $54, and the lowest was in South Carolina, $16.50. The average in the Southern Central States, to which Kentucky belongs, was $21.50 or $15.28 with board.

—It is now estimated that the 1911 tobacco crop of Nicholas county in acreage will not much exceed one-half of the acreage of the last year. There are numbers of growers in the county who in former years have been raising large crops that are making no preparation whatever for a crop this year, in some of the poorer sections of the county a large acreage will be put out, but the fall-off in other sections will bring a great reduction. Growers complain that at the present prices tobacco cannot be produced with any profit, taking into consideration the high cost of labor.

Spring is Here.

One thing that convinces us that spring is at hand is the fish and snake stories that are appearing in our exchanges. They do not differ materially from those of former years except that locations are changed.

How He Did It

By LOUISE IDA ROSS

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

There were two things Frank Trowbridge excelled in, but before stating them it is better to give the information that Frank's whole front name was Frances and she was a girl. The two accomplishments were flirting and athletics. She lived in summer on a lake ten miles long by three to six miles broad and could beat any other girl near it rowing, sailing, swimming, diving, fishing and any other sporting accomplishment fitted for women. The boys were all in love with her.

Frank wasn't overscrupulous as to making believe that she returned their affection, at least to a slight degree, but nothing definite could be got out of her by any of them. Charlie Wiggins, who was a year or two older than the rest of them and consequently harder for her to manage, was a cool sort of a chap, and it bothered her because she couldn't tease him as she teased the others. Near the end of a summer she had half promised to be engaged to half a dozen fellows and feared she would be obliged to be serious with some one of them. Charlie came up from the city for a two weeks' vacation. It struck Frank that by giving him the most of her time the others would drop out of the race, thinking that he was the lucky man. Then when they found they were mistaken she could accuse them of having deserted her.

Charlie fell into the trap very easily; but, though he didn't let Frank know it, he had no mind to fall out. With her permission, to say nothing of encouragement, he devoted himself to her till just before the time when he must leave. Then he laid his own trap. "Frank," he said, "that little single sticker your father gave you in the spring is a dandy, isn't she?"

"She can beat anything on the lake." "Except my Gertrude."

"H'm! Your Gertrude's a tub. By the bye, who's she named for?"

"That's a secret."

Frank slowly raised her long lashes and gave him a look.

"You think she can beat my Polly, eh?"

"I'm sure of it."

"I'll bet you a pound of candy against it."

"Nonsense! Do you suppose I race for trifles?"

"What stakes would you race for?"

Charlie didn't reply for some time. Then he said: "I'll race my Gertrude in a wind fair for both two miles up and two miles back. If you lose you marry me; if you win I marry!"

"Whom?"

"My boat."

"I know what you mean. You'll marry this mysterious Gertrude."

There's no knowing by what feminine process Frank made up her mind to accept the challenge. She certainly hadn't the slightest doubt that the Polly could sail around the Gertrude in circles, the latter being notoriously the most sluggish boat on the lake. But she was a trifle jealous of this unknown Gertrude, and Charlie was to marry her if he were beaten. Be this as it may, the race was made up to take place on the first day there was a sufficient breeze. Frank was to sail the Polly and Charlie the Gertrude.

On the day of the race there was a breeze varying from 4 to 10 knots. Charlie gave Frank permission to inspect his boat, which she did, but Charlie declined to inspect the Polly. Most of Frank's semiances as well as many others were on hand to see the race, but no one knew the stakes. All expected that it would be a walk-over for Frank.

A designated starter fired a pistol, and when the boats sailed over the line another was fired, indicating that the race was on. As was expected, the Gertrude dropped astern of her rival from the first. But when the former had got over half and the latter three-eighths of a mile the Gertrude ceased to lose. The Polly turned the stake boat a quarter of a mile ahead, when the Gertrude began to make a slight gain. This was astonishing, for she didn't careen any more under a fresher breeze, indicating she didn't get one. She was not long in catching the Polly and not much longer in pulling ahead of her, though this at first was hard to tell, for Wiggins passed a hundred yards to her lee. This was considered very good of him, since his boat did not blanket his rival.

Meanwhile the breeze had lost nearly half its force. But while this made a great deal of difference in the speed of the Polly it did not affect that of the Gertrude. The latter sailed on, slowly gaining on her rival, coming in an eighth of a mile ahead. The winner was received with no especial demonstrations, for sympathy was all with the lady. But what was lost in rooting was made up in surprise. Wiggins remained in his boat till Frank came in beside him, blushing like a peony, at which every one wondered. Charlie stepped into her boat and handed her ashore, saying as he did so: "Ladies and gentlemen, I take both pride and pleasure in introducing my fiancée."

The half dozen semiances who were present were crushed, and Frank wished she were at the bottom of the lake. "How did you do it, Charlie?" she asked that evening when they were consulting about an engagement ring. "I bored a hole in the bow and one in the stern, with a pipe between them. With my feet I pumped water from the bow and drove it out at the stern. See?"

"I think I do."

FREE SAMPLE CURED OLD PERSON'S BOWEL TROUBLE

One of the most remarkable proofs of the unusual laxative merit contained in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is that it is effective not only in people in the prime of life, but at the extremes of ages. As many letters are received from mothers regarding the cures of children, as from men and women of sixty, seventy and eighty years of age. It must be truly a wonderful laxative.

In the cure of constipation and bowel trouble in old people it has no equal. It corrects the constipation, dispels the headache, biliousness, gas, drowsiness after eating, etc. People advancing in years should see to it that their bowels move freely, and if they do not to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You can prolong your life by healthy bowel action. Clogged bowels invite disease. Women about to pass the menstrual period cannot do better than use Syrup Pepsin several times a week until the system has settled to its future condition.

Among the strongest supporters of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are Mr. W. G. Zorn of New Decatur, Ala., and Mr. George S. Spaulding of the National Soldiers' Home, Kansas, both elderly men. The regular size bottles can be bought of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar, but a free sample bottle can be had by sending your address to the doctor.

Automobile Crashed Into Stone Fence.

Four people had a narrow escape Friday night in an automobile accident which occurred on the Winchester pike near the residence of Mr. C. M. Clay. The party which was composed of R. M. Trimble, of Mt. Sterling, Tenn., Arthur C. Jones, of Memphis, Tenn., together with two young ladies from Cynthiana, were enroute from this city to Winchester.

The driver was evidently unfamiliar with the route and at a turn in the road the machine crashed into a stone fence completely demolishing the auto and tearing down a part of the fence. The occupants were thrown out by the force of the impact, but fortunately none were injured beyond a few bruises and scratches. One of the men went to a farmhouse close by to telephone to Paris for assistance, but no telephone being available he was compelled to walk to town where a machine was secured from a local garage and returning to the scene of the accident took the ladies to their home in Cynthiana.

The men returned to Paris and registered at the Windsor Hotel where they spent the remainder of the night. The names of the young women in the party could not be learned.

"Billy" Proved to Be the Culprit

"Billy" a pet goat of men employed by a coal dealer whose office and yard are opposite the Governor's mansion in Frankfort, has been convicted of stealing all the newspapers delivered at the mansion. The offense is of long standing, but the culprit was not discovered until Friday morning when "Billy" was found standing on the front porch of the mansion, leisurely chewing up the morning paper, and enjoying it as much as if it had been the finest quality of alfalfa or California oats.

Governor Willson had been missing his papers for some time, and had been a constant kicker with the news-dealers and local newspapers because his papers were missing.

Carriers were threatened with losing their heads and the whole affair assumed a very disagreeable and warlike condition. The carriers insisted that they left the papers, and finally it was decided to employ a detective to find the thief, and the result was that the goat was caught.
